

Molly Binville The good Samaritan.

When Jesus lived on Earth he taught us good things. A Jewish expert in laws asked how do I get eternal life. Jesus said "what's in the laws".

The man said "love god with our mind, with our strength by loving our neighbours and love the lord your god with all your heart and with all your soul".

The man also asked who is my neighbour. Jesus replied the man with a stone. A Jewish person got beaten up. A priest walked by and ignored the man. Then a priest assistant walked by. (a priest assistant is a priest helper) He also ignored the man but a man from Samaria stopped, helped the man and brought him into an inn to be cared for.

The message Jesus is trying to say to everyone is we don't just obey God by his rules or what he says but we obey him by loving everyone around us and helping each other. ~~we need it~~

It applies to our community's because lots of people actually do help people even if we don't know them and if more and more people do the same our world will be a very healthy and amazing place to live.

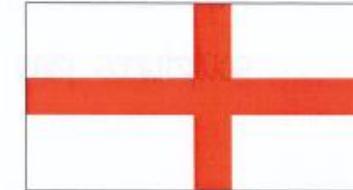

Great effort

Well done!
